

Donkey Corner

The Gate Is Always Open

A gentle story from Donkey Corner

There is a quiet little place where the world seems to slow down.

A place where the morning sun gently rises over green fields, where birds greet the day with cheerful songs and where every new sunrise promises another happy adventure.

That place is called Donkey Corner.

Behind an old wooden gate, surrounded by trees, wildflowers and gentle countryside, live three very special donkeys.

Each one is different.

Each one has her own personality.

And each one has a very special place in our hearts.

The youngest is Aoife.

She is curious about everything.

Every butterfly is worth following.

Every flower deserves a closer look.

Every new day is another adventure waiting to happen.

Her big sister, Bella, is always nearby.

She watches over Aoife with loving eyes, making sure she never wanders too far.

Bella is calm, gentle and wise, and she always seems to know exactly what Aoife is thinking.

Watching over them both is Mumma Donkey.

She does not need many words.

A gentle look.

A soft nuzzle.

A reassuring smile.

That is often all it takes to remind her little family that they are safe, loved and together.

As the first rays of sunshine warmed the meadow that morning, the three donkeys stood quietly beside one another, enjoying the peaceful beginning of another beautiful day.

None of them knew it yet...

But today was going to be the beginning of a wonderful journey.
